Our Knowledge Partners

There is a critical need to make our classrooms more interactive and applied-learning oriented. The required switch from teacher-monologues monopoly to a blended mode in which tasks, activities, and application of what the students have learned is never easy. The faculty members are to be supported for the said shift gradually with meaningful interventions. The Faculty Development Centre (FDC) at Al Shifa College of Arts & Science (ACAS) has been working in this direction since its establishment in 2020. With Flipped Learning as one of the chosen modes of instruction, ACAS has been laying extra emphasis on this regard. After putting in place the general paradigms, the FDC is now narrowing down to providing exposure and supports at Department/Subject levels. The 7-Day Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on Gamifying Commerce Classrooms is organised in collaboration with Lead College of Management, Farook Institute of Management Studies, Farook College (FIMS), and Mont International Institute of Management Studies, Perinthalmanna, Kerala. The FDP programme is exploratory in nature, aiming to find ways to deliver the curriculum of Bachelor of Commerce (B Com) programmes interactively in games and tasks format in the classrooms.

Department of Commerce

One of the founding Departments of the College, the Dept of Commerce has as its goal contributing to the Nation a band of youth who will be informed in their subject, exposed to the multiple fields within Commerce and Management, and capable of relating themselves to varied perspectives and knowledge around.

The Department offers two Undergraduate programmes since 2010: Bachelor of Commerce with Taxation and Finance specializations. Under the Department, the students are rigorously coached simultaneously to excel in attitude and aptitude wise. While focusing strongly on academics, the students are motivated to involve in co-curricular and extension activities. They are made aware of the institutions of renown in their fields and people of repute too. Student presentations and projects are genuinely supported by the Dept. leading to bringing out earnest involvement among the learners in what they explore. The faculty works on improving their confidence levels and levels of self-awareness. Most importantly, they are slowly taught the art of learning to learn, which is the key ability the students need.

The quality of the Degree programme we deliver is strengthened by the additional certificate and diploma programmes listed for the interested takers. All these are conceived by taking into account the career prospects emerging in the subject and the skills and accessory qualifications required for the Degree holders to be qualified for the careers to come.
